PUMPED HYDRO STORAGE - HOW IT WORKS

When demand increases, or wind/solar production drops, water runs downhill from upper reservoir

More stable, less variable supply results from adding electricity from turbine to original renewable power

Water runs through turbine, creating electricity

Reservoir